5 Ways to Make Flash Cards - wikiHow

To make flash cards, start by writing each key term or figure you're trying to memorize on its own index card or piece of paper. Then, on the other side, write the definition or other information that relates to the word on the opposite side. Make sure your writing is large and clear so it's easy to read while you're studying. Also, don't try to cram too much information on your flash cards.
